

Declan O'Sullivan

68 The O'Casey, Gresham House, D01 HC93

+353 (83) 070 1382

To:

- Patricia, Donald and Colm O'Sullivan
- Martha Downey de Buitléir, Donal, Ciara, Donal (Francis), Catriona, Moya de Buitléir
- Lisa, Kevin, Christopher, Amanda and Stacey Downey
- Eileen, Joe, Cillian and Dr. Cathal de Buitléir
- Margaret Downey Harrington

Date: November 20, 2025

Recipient Name/Dear All

RE: SUPPLEMENTARY FOLLOW-UP – Financial Surveillance & Privacy Violations

Dear All,

Further to my previous correspondence regarding the Registered Post dispatched this evening, I am writing this additional letter to document the specific impact these criminal activities and allegations are having on my financial security and basic survival.

While the previous letter addressed the audio harassment, it is critical that you understand the extreme remote monitoring regarding my personal finances. This surveillance has reached a level of intrusion that is difficult to articulate but horrifying to live through.

1. Financial Surveillance & Harassment There is an extreme and precise remote monitoring of the physical cash I hold. This is not a vague suspicion; the harassment demonstrates knowledge of the exact amount of money in my wallet and in my hand while in stores, down to the specific denominations of notes (€50s, €20s) and coins (€2, €1).

This harassment follows a punishing cycle:

- Wednesdays (Social Welfare): The remote harassment and assault escalate drastically every Wednesday when I receive my social welfare payment.
- Possession of Funds: Whenever I have money of any amount, obtained by any means, the situation becomes unbearable. The harassment is directly correlated to my ability to purchase food or necessities.

2. Impact on Survival This targeted abuse has forced me into a state of destitution. As a direct result of this interference, I have endured days without food, days surviving on just porridge, and periods where I am barely eating enough to function. I have been pushed to the breaking point where I have had to resort to shoplifting simply to survive. This is not a lifestyle choice; it is a desperate reaction to being systematically deprived of the peace required to manage my own basic needs.

3. Compromised Banking Security The breach of my privacy is so total that I am currently unable to bank with major institutions like AIB or BOI. Even with my An Post account, my security is routinely violated. No matter how many times I change my PIN number, the information is intercepted. This stolen information is then used to intimidate me—by revealing the PIN publicly or pressuring me to change it again, only for the cycle to repeat.

4. Context and Patterns This is not an isolated incident unique to me. Diego, during his time at Indeed, was subjected to this exact same cycle of allegations and pressure. The pattern is identical.

5. Total Violation of Privacy (Sanitation) and always by Video Feed, Microphone and Speakers - Finally, I must record that the invasion of privacy extends to the most intimate settings. They have ensured there is zero privacy or security regarding the bathroom and toilet facilities in my own home. This violation follows me into the public sphere, specifically regarding WCs and toilets in Dublin City Centre and fast-food chains.

Conclusion I am stating clearly that the de Buitléirs are behind this orchestrated campaign. I urge you to immediately discuss these specific financial and privacy issues with Eileen and Donal. This level of monitoring—from the coins in my pocket to the privacy of a bathroom—is a violation of human rights that must be addressed now.

Sincerely,

Declan O'Sullivan